

Subsidy for tax-exempt households to buy an air conditioner

(Household: a family living together in the same house)

Households with low incomes can receive a subsidy to buy an air conditioner.

Note: Please buy an air conditioner after receiving approval of a subsidy.

You cannot receive a subsidy if you buy an air conditioner before approval.

Eligibility

Households that meet one of the following:

- Households that were exempt from resident tax between April 1, 2025, and March 31, 2026
- Households that paid only a per capita portion of resident tax between April 1, 2025, and March 31, 2026
- Households that are exempt from resident tax from April 1, 2026
- Households that will pay only a per capita portion of resident tax from April 1, 2026

*Per capita portion of resident tax: the same amount of resident tax for each person

Conditions to receive a subsidy

- Your household does not have an air conditioner and will buy one.
- Your household has only one broken air conditioner.
- Your household has only one air conditioner made before 2011.

The subsidy:

Up to 100,000 yen per household (You need to pay any amount that exceeds 100,000 yen)

How to receive a subsidy:

Please submit an application form in either way below:

- Apply online using an application form

<https://www.city.kokubunji.tokyo.jp/kenkou-fukushi/seikatsushien/1010847/1037312.html>

- Send an application form by mail

Download an application form from the city website and send it to the City Hall

Address: Livelihood Welfare Division, Kokubunji City Hall, 185-8501

Application period: Friday, May 1, 2026 – Monday, December 28, 2026

For detailed information such as downloading an application form, please visit the following website:

<https://www.city.kokubunji.tokyo.jp/kenkou-fukushi/seikatsushien/1010847/1037312.html>

- The Web Translation tab at the upper side of the page translates it into foreign languages.
- You can select Web Translation from “Search” at the left bottom of the screen when viewing on your smartphone.

If you have any questions, please call the following:

Call center for Low-income household air conditioner purchasing subsidy (in Japanese)

Tel: 042-312-8717 (Monday – Friday, 9 AM – 5 PM)

Closed on Saturdays, Sundays, and public holidays